

Geographies of Justice and Social Transformation

Edited by Nik Heynen
(University of Georgia)

Andrew Herod
(University of Georgia)

Melissa Wright
(Pennsylvania State University)

Geographies of Justice and Social Transformation is devoted to books that engage the importance of space for questions of social and political change. This focus necessarily covers a broad range of subject matter, including international political economy, urban studies, gender, race, sexuality, and poverty and inequality. While the series is interdisciplinary, its primary emphasis is on critical human geography.

Books published in the series are designed to inform both intellectuals of broad stripes and those engaged in political processes of different kinds, from policy makers to grassroots activists. The series editors are interested in producing books that live on in academic offices and classrooms around the world, but also take on life in political chambers, organizing halls, and the streets where both space and politics are produced.

For more information, please contact: Derek Krissoff
University of Georgia Press
330 Research Drive
Athens, GA 30602
(706) 369-6488
dkrissoff@ugapress.uga.edu

Nik Heynen
Department of Geography
University of Georgia
GG Building, 210 Field St., Room 204
Athens, GA 30602
nheyne@uga.edu

Editorial Advisory Board

Sharad Chari
London School of Economics

Jennifer Hyndman
Syracuse University

Heidi Nast
DePaul University

Laura Pulido
University of Southern California

Neil Smith
City University of
New York

Bradon Ellem
University of Sydney

Larry Knopp
University of Minnesota,
Duluth

Jamie Peck
University of Wisconsin,
Madison

Paul Routledge
University of Glasgow

Bobby Wilson
University of Alabama

The University of GEORGIA
PRESS

800-266-5842
www.ugapress.org